

JOSEPH DROUHIN, POMMARD

DESCRIPTION

A great Burgundy, worthy of its reputation. An intense, bright, red colour; a powerful nose, with notes of black cherry and spices, evolving towards aromas of young leather. On the palette, the tannins give a certain impression of firmness, somewhat softened by a nice, harmonious texture. Persistent flavors in the aftertaste.

VINIFICATION

Maceration and vinification take 2 to 3 weeks under controlled temperatures. Indigenous yeasts are used and Joseph Drouhin seeks total control of the process of extraction; extraction gives colour and substance but should never be at the expense of the finesse and typical character of the wine. Type: in barrels (20% in new oak). Length: 14 to 18 months. Origin of the wood: French oak forests.
