

AIX, WHITE

DESCRIPTION

On the palate, this wine is refreshingly crisp and perfectly balanced. Bright flavors of lemon zest and grapefruit lead the charge, followed by hints of juicy melon and a touch of minerality that adds depth and character. The mid-palate reveals a pleasing texture, with nuances of almond and a whisper of honey adding complexity without overwhelming the freshness. The finish is clean and invigorating, with a lingering impression of citrus and a hint of sea breeze salinity, evoking the coastal terroir of Provence. This wine leaves you with a delightful, mouth-watering acidity that beckons for another sip.
